

Appendix A: Organizational Capacity Assessment

Introduction

The CDC Diabetes Prevention Recognition Program is a voluntary program for organizations interested in establishing local evidence-based lifestyle change programs for people at high risk for type 2 diabetes. Organizations interested in applying to become a CDC Recognized Diabetes Prevention Program are strongly advised to read the CDC DPRP Standards and Operating Procedures and complete this Capacity Assessment, prior to applying for recognition.

Benefits of Completing the Capacity Assessment

Assessing your organization's capacity will identify areas that may need to be enhanced, prior to applying for CDC DPRP recognition, to ensure the organization is able to sustain the program long term. Sustainable lifestyle change programs are those that have the capacity to implement the lifestyle change program without federal, state, or local government grant dollars long-term. In addition, it is necessary for the organization to have staff with the knowledge, skills, and qualities listed in Appendix C of the DPRP Standards.

Directions for Completing the Capacity Assessment

1. Refer to the CDC DPRP-Standards and Operating Procedures document, available at www.cdc.gov/diabetes/prevention/recognition, when completing this questionnaire.
2. DPRP Standards Reference - indicates the location of the relevant information in the CDC DPRP Standards and Operating Procedures document.
3. Organizational capacity assessment questions - read the question and check one box: "yes" "no" or "unsure"
4. Total the number of "yes" "no" and "unsure" responses at the bottom of the questionnaire.
5. Read the recommendations to determine if your organization is ready to apply for CDC DPRP Recognition at this time.

Recommendations

For each Capacity Topic with a “No” or “Unsure” consider:

- Working with your organization’s leadership to enhance the Organizational Capacity Topic to enable your organization to check “Yes” to the capacity assessment question.
- Partnering with an existing DPRP recognized organization in your community.
